BRAND KIT · STARTER DIRECTION

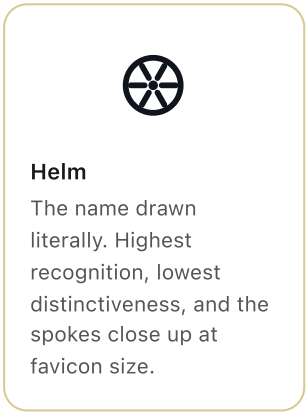

LOGO DIRECTION

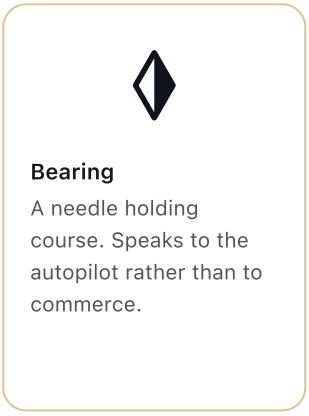

Four directions, drawn as vectors so they recolour from the palette, stay sharp at any size and open in Figma. Pick one to set the lockups above.

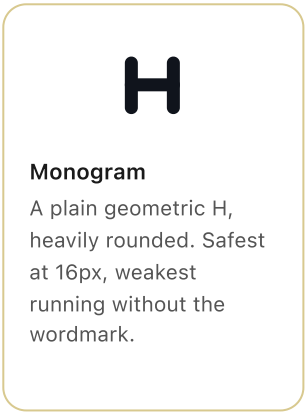

Waterline
Three operations stacked and receding. Abstract enough to own, and the only one here that says nothing literal about boats.

Helm
The name drawn literally. Highest recognition, lowest distinctiveness, and the spokes close up at favicon size.

Bearing
A needle holding course. Speaks to the autopilot rather than to commerce.

Monogram
A plain geometric H, heavily rounded. Safest at 16px, weakest running without the wordmark.

Direction, not a finished logo. Run a trademark clearance check before this goes on anything commercial — a generated mark can land on one someone already owns, and that is a separate problem from who owns the file.

Wordmark set in the display face at heavy weight, wide tracking, always uppercase. The mark may run alone; the wordmark may not run without clear space equal to the bar height on all sides. Minimum size 16px for the mark, 80px wide for the lockup.

PALETTE

Hull	Tide	Signal	Kelp	Slate	Sail
#10141C	#2E6F7E	#E8A33D	#3F7D58	#6B7683	#F5F2EA

Hull carries the product chrome, Sail the document surfaces. Tide is the only colour used for a primary action. Signal is reserved for things that need a human — a stuck shipment, a low-stock alert — so it must never appear decoratively. Kelp confirms an automated action completed.

TYPOGRAPHY

DISPLAY · 40 / 700 — Run ops on autopilot

HEADING · 20 / 600 — Everything the back office does

BODY · 16 / 400 / 1.6

Helm connects the tools your store already runs and handles the repetitive work, with you approving rather than doing.

CAPTION · 11 / 500

Bricolage Grotesque for display and headings — it has enough character to hold a logo lockup. IBM Plex Sans for body, IBM Plex Mono for order numbers, SKUs and anything a founder will read back over the phone. All three are open-licensed, so nothing here needs a foundry invoice before launch.

VOICE

SAY

- Plain operator language — “reorder alert”, not “intelligent replenishment signal”.
- Name the hours saved before naming the technology.
- Talk to the founder who is still doing the work tonight.

AVOID

- “Revolutionary”, “seamless”, “game-changing”.
- AI as the headline — it is the method, not the promise.
- Enterprise tone. These are one- and two-person teams.
