EXECUTIVE SUMMARY · ONE-PAGER

Helm

The operations autopilot for independent e-commerce brands.

FORGED BY KAISO · JUNE 2026 · CONFIDENTIAL

THE PROBLEM

Independent online stores lose 12+ hours a week stitching together inventory, fulfillment, and customer support across disconnected tools. Hiring an ops manager is expensive and out of reach for the 90% of brands doing under $2M in revenue.

THE SOLUTION

Helm is an AI operations layer that connects a store's existing tools and runs the repetitive work — reorder alerts, shipment triage, refund handling, and daily reporting — autonomously, with a human-in-the-loop dashboard.

BUSINESS MODEL

Tiered SaaS from $79–$399 / month based on order volume, plus a usage fee on automated actions. Land at the solo-founder tier, expand as the brand scales.

WHY NOW

Agentic AI finally makes reliable, low-cost operations automation possible, while a record number of solo founders are launching stores without back-office staff.
